Abstract

The article provides a socio-philosophical analysis of the need to create civic responsibility among youth in the process of building a democratic state of law and civil society in Uzbekistan. It also considers factors affecting the formation of civic responsibility among young people.

Introduction

Today in Uzbekistan, great attention is paid to the issue of educating young people in the spirit of patriotism, respect for our national traditions and values, bringing up a spiritually mature and healthy, harmonious generation, protecting their rights and interests.. Civil responsibility is a continuation and inseparable part of democratic changes in society, and society in its democratic development is not limited to granting citizens universal rights, such as equality, freedom, unity, but also requires observance of these rights, the use of their rights creatively, in the interests of society. The more progress and growth democracy in the life of society, the higher the responsibility of the citizens in it also increases and increases. In the process of restoration of democratic legal state and civil society in Uzbekistan, a citizen will be able to take an active part in solving the problems of society in the case of reliance on existing rights.

Materials and methods

Our important task is the consistent implementation of the principle on the interdependence of mutual responsibility, rights and duties between citizens, the state and society, says the president of Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev, - this principle is a constitutional framework that ensures effective cooperation between the state and the individual, state and civil society in solving important tasks facing our country. We are all equally responsible for the prosperity of our motherland – citizens, society and the state, for the strengthening of peace and stability in our country, for the preservation, enrichment of our historical, spiritual and cultural heritage and for the decoration of future generations. We must further work to preserve and strengthen the atmosphere of friendship and harmony, mutual respect and solidarity between representatives of different nationalities and peoples living in our country[2.36-37] .

Decree of the president of the Republic of Uzbekistan on measures to ensure more effective organization of the process of acquisition of rights over land parcels and other immovable property as part of the South Caucasus pipeline expansion project more ... The decree defines the main priorities of the activity of the Youth Union of Uzbekistan. Priority areas that directly affect the process of formation of civil responsibility of young people in Uzbekistan can be distinguished from the following::

- first, to transform the Youth Union of Uzbekistan into a structure providing effective cooperation with state bodies, non – profit organizations and other institutions of civil society in the implementation of the state policy on youth in the Republic, carrying out professional activities under the slogan "youth-future creator,
- secondly, protecting the rights, freedoms and legitimate interests of young people, educating them in the spirit of respect for national and universal values, loyalty to the ideas of independence in their minds and hearts, understanding of national identity, love for the motherland and its destiny, decision-making and development of a sense of self-sacrifice, protection from various ideological threats,
- therefore, in the reforms on the construction of a Democratic state and the development of civil society, it is necessary to increase the activity of young people, to expand the ranks of young people with high spirituality, independent thinking, an initiative with a firm Life position, a broad outlook and deep knowledge, ambitious, capable of mobilizing their strength, knowledge and potential in the interests of.- from the four, to create suitable conditions for young people to thoroughly master modern professions, to provide employment, to develop business skills, to attract them to a wide range of small business and private entrepreneurship, to encourage their initiatives, to promote the realization of their intellectual and social potential,- fifth, by increasing the interest of young people to read scientific and artistic books, including electronic works, and by raising the culture of the use of legal, environmental, medical and information and communication technologies, the formation of a strong immune response to various ideological threats, in particular religious extremism, terrorism, "mass culture" and other foreign ideas [3].

Results

Today, the issue of formation of civil responsibility in young people in the process of restoration of democratic legal state and civil society in Uzbekistan is becoming more important. As noted by the president of Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev-the result of the reforms carried out in our country today is directly related to the ranks of young cadres, who are primarily high-spirited, independent-minded, capable of taking responsibility for the fate and prospects of our motherland

I. The responsibilities of the youth and citizens of Uzbekistan aimed at strengthening the social and state system of the Republic of Uzbekistan are such responsibilities as compliance with the Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan, observance of laws, maintenance of labor discipline, conscientiously look at public duty, strengthening of market forms of property, respect of living rules, respect of national dignity, rights of citizens of.

II. The responsibilities of the youth and citizens of Uzbekistan aimed at protecting the interests of Uzbekistan shall include such responsibilities as increasing and protecting the power of Vatan, protecting the motherland, carrying out general military service on the basis of the law.

In the process of ensuring the stability of society, the following issues are considered in the promotion of civil responsibility and socio-political activity in young people:

- to develop a system of measures aimed at ensuring the active and conscious participation of young people in the processes of direct democracy, that is, elections and referenda, which are considered important issues of life of society and the state;
- Organization of such processes as pluralism in society, diversity of opinions, diversity of political life, the existence of progressive ideas in ideological processes and the achievement of the manifestation in this reality of youth as a political force that constitutes the processes of society;
- formation of skills of participation as a decisive force in ensuring peace and tranquility in society through increasing social and political initiative of young people in society, active participation in state and public organizations;
- it is desirable to use the opportunities of mass media in the establishment of democratic values in the minds of young people, to promote the role of mass media in the active participation of young people in socio-political processes as the most effective and serious mechanism of political propaganda.

Conclusion

In Uzbekistan, attention is paid to the harmony of education and upbringing in the education of young people. The education of young people in high moral and disciplined manner, their quality education, and their maturation in the spirit of patriotism are recognized as an important factor in the development of Uzbekistan. The formation and development of civil responsibility in youth is an important basis of social stability, development of society and the successes achieved in Uzbekistan, the issue of educating young people who are aimed at a specific goal and who are surrounded on the basis of national ideas and ideology is of urgent importance as an important task facing the state and society.
